

I am in favor of dropping the morse code requirements for amateur radio licenses. although I was required to pass 3 different tests to obtain the license which I now hold, I believe that the requirement is no longer appropriate.